

Welsh Water of Wisconsin

Well, raining again... it must be Wales...or Wisconsin water droplets form whispering trickles form quivering ripples form gurgling creeks

form rushing rivers

Water falls tumbling over rocks flowing over dirt banks bouncing down hillsides driving wheels grinding grain splashing into pools

Water of Wales running to the sea waving and wild

raging and wicked

no longer wandering

no longer whispering

Water whipping the ships to the west winding their way to Wisconsin where the rain falls

water puddles washing over Wisconsin Welsh hills

Can: yr un sy'n caru choffi bore